Please provide me confirmation of the bills. Or send the bills to me for payment.

You also agreed to provide my attorney with a detailed financial report by this past Monday.

Not true. I just know you. And I know we were in love just a few short weeks ago.

You don't want the future that is in store for you. You desperately wish it didn't have to be this way and could fix it for all of us, make our family whole again, trust that your future with me is safe and secure, and that you could have your life back. You wish you could get in the car tomorrow and join me here, and at all of our planned trips. But I know you, and you won't. You will remain angry and stubborn and continue tearing down this path until it is much too late. And some day you will look back and regret the loss. You already feel the loss but it will grow exponentially as the months and years to by. I am already there. You will meet me at this point in the future, but by the time you get here it will be too late.
